The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, 6-7, 9-19 and 21-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Watanabe.

Watanabe discloses ink sets comprising aqueous pigment dispersions. These pigments are taught as copolymer encapsulated organic pigments with particle sizes such as claimed instantly. The copolymers taught as suitable are preferably styrene-acrylic acid species with acid values meeting the instant limitations. The further incorporation of hardeners and additional polymers is taught at column 8, line 18 to column 9, line 18. These hardeners and polymers include glycidyl ethers and polyurethanes respectively. The further incorporation of glycol ether as penetrating solvent and alkanolamine as pH adjuster is taught at column 18, line 9 and column 20, line 6, respectively.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select the polyurethane as the "polymeric compound" and the glycol ether as hardener as taught by the reference with the reasonable expectation that desirable results would ensue.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 19 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Each of these claims require the insertion of the word "claim" in line 1.

Claims 10 and 11 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. It is not seen how these claims further limit over claims that precede them.

Claims 5, 8 and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
